INNIO Jenbacher Employees Take Action to Help the Community

- Young family in Zillertal receives 13,500 euros donation to buy special equipment for sick child

JENBACH, April 22, 2021 – Thoughtfulness and mutual support are core values at international gas engine specialist INNIO. As part of the company's active community engagement, INNIO Jenbacher employees provide ongoing support for aid campaigns in the region, such as gifts for children at the Tyrol Women's Shelter, or food parcels for the tearoom at the Schwaz Association for Social Projects.

Recently, the workforce turned its attention to a young couple from Zillertal, whose daughter, Leonie, suffers from a rare genetic disorder called xeroderma pigmentosum. To be able to step outside her home in daylight, their little girl needs very specialized and extremely costly protective clothing. Employees raised 13,500 euros to help the family buy it so that Leonie will be able to splash around outdoors or play in a sandbox.

"Leonie's condition is a huge day-to-day challenge for this young local family. We are delighted that our donation will at least help ease their financial burden a little as well as showing them we care," says Beate Trojer, Assembly Manager at INNIO in Jenbach, who started the fundraiser for the young family.
